This is effected through agents at certain offices on the borders of the State to whom letters are directed enclosing others to be sent across the lines and remailed in the Confederacy or delivered as circumstances will allow. This mode of communication is very common at this time. We are assured that there is scarcely a mail arriving at Lebanon from Burksville, Cumberland county, of Somerset, Pulaski county, that, does not ontain latters for active female rebels in nat town. This may all be proper family o friendly correspondence, but we cannot resis the opinion that much important information is thus sent forward to the rehel leaders and intelligence of their contemplated invasions re ceived in return. their arrival and rejoicing over the prospect o another raid into Kentucky. Some weeks since we spoke of the reopening of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad and of the benefits resulting therefrom to the travelling community. Since then we have had the benefit of personal observation during a recent trip to Washington to give us confirmed evidence of the safety of the road and the success with which it is now so largely operated. The line is used for travel with every facility and accommodation, while the many heavy trains of produce going cceanward, and the long lines of empty ears returning westward for further sup plies which met our gaze, gave assurance that the business of the road was never more heavy or more energetically managed. Smith, Esq., is among the most efficient railroad superintendents in our country, and although be has not been in the army, he has perhaps served the Union couse as faithfully and usefully in the trasportation of supplies and munitions as if he held the office of Quartermaster General or Commissary General Indeed his place on the road could not have heen supplied had he resigned his position to take rank in the volunteer service; he therefore holds the brevet title conferred for signal

SATURDAY, MARCII 28, 1863.

As the National Intelligencer states he comes to turn this paradise into a that the 9th army corps of the Army of the hell;" "the serpent entered its bowers," and Potomac, formerly commauded by General the same "poison of ambition" was in Burnside, passed through Baltimore on Tueaday on its way to the West, the information need no longer be withheld that this splendie body of veterans is again under the immediate eye of their beloved old commander, prepared to resist the rehel advance into our State and then to follow their flight into East Tennessee, where Burnside and Rosecrans will find the rebels behind their last ditch, and compel their surrender or else crush them be neath the power of their conjoined armics.

Will the rebely, who have now invaded our State, are not captured or driven out in such a crippled condition that they can never return it will be a burning disgrace to the Commouwealth. It will not be enough to drive them back a post of the way and then abandon the chase a was done after Kirby Smith and Bragg. 2 a whole State must b cleated, and there should be force enough em ployed to hold permanently our border connties which have suffere so greatly. These counties, such as Wayne and Clinton, have responded nobly to every call of their country, and have poured out their blood in defence of the Union, while their homes, needing their protection, have been overrun by rebel soldiery and guerillas. Since the enemy left the Bluegrass Region last fall, they have wintered in this quarter of the State, stealing and carrying off everything they could find in the shape of provisions or horses into Tennessee. Thus cruel injustice has been worked to t'te loyal citizens of the border counties which might have been averted if only hal the heroes they have sent into the Federal army had remained to defend their homes. We know that that part of the State offers no great attraction for occupation, but it holdthe homes of poor soldiers now battling on other fields, whose homes and families are a dear and precious to them as those of more favored localities are to their more wealthy in habitants. We insist then that when the rebel are again driven from the Bluegrass country, they shall not be permitted to scatter amon the fastnesses of the mountains and remain there to keep the families of the absent brave in continual apprehension; they must be hunted out like heasts of prey and their power to do mischief crushed. We can imagine nothing more discouraging to sensitive men than position of thousands of our fellow-citizens, in the early Kentucky regiments, who have been in the Federal service between a year and a half and two years, and in tha edious lapse of time have never seen their families, though they know that rebel marauders are prowling around their dwellings, affrighting their wives and children, and despoiling taeir substance. Let them, however be assured that onr commanding Generals have it in their power to "draw the awful circle" of the Government's protection around their homes and helpless loved ones sorrowing there, and they will be reinvigorated for their arduous duties, and strike more cheerily and sturdily for the cause—the boly cause for CAUTION.—The Louisville Journal publishes a very calm, judicious, and well-timed communication from a correspondent at Nash ville, in which it is clearly shown by the bis torical records that the secession movement was first started then nourished, and finally strengthened into full-fledged rebellion, solely by the publication, without note or comment in the Nashville papers, in 1860-61, of the speeches of the abolition politicians, and the editorials of abolition editors. Thus the exposure of the objects and designs of abolitionism by its own advocates drove the popular itionism by its own advocates drove the people of Tennessee into rebellion. This fact the writer substantiates by reference to recorder testimony, and challenges contradiction. The writer in the Journal then goes on further the show that the course now being pursued by the Nashville Union newspaper is such as to keep alive the rebellion, and totally alienate the people of Tennessee from the Government and the Union.

The Journal, with lively sagacity, seems to Comprehend these forcible and well-put argu-ments of its Nashville correspondent, and treads a similar result from a practical manfestation of abolitionism in our own State Hence, we find the Journal reprimanding, in evere terms, the Cincinnati Gazette for dari f our Union Convention .- Lou. ourl back the attack of the returning traitors under Buckner, that our atmosphere might not be polluted by their presence. The fair fields and heautiful valleys of the State were the chosen homes of tranquillity, plenty, and security. "In the midst-this tranquillity, the destroyer comes-glory; an ardor panting for all the storm and oustle and hurricane of life." with which Burr shocking to the soul, so revolting to reason.

But here is this proclamation put forth as

AN APPEAL TO KENTUCKIANS.

The time has arrived when all able-bodic ten between the ages of eighteen and forty either enter the Ages of eighteen and forly five most become soldiers. You must now either enter the Northern army, to fight will negroes for corrupt vandals, or the Southern army, to fight for our liberty, our honor, ou homes, and all that ennobles man. Tru

You live in a State noted for the chivalry ner sons—the birthplace of Jefferson Dav Breckinridge, Morgan, and a host of other the noblest of the noble, and in a county just roud of its brave men, fair women, and file soil. We now call npou you to rally our cause, proven just and made sacred rictories upon a hundred bloody fields.

Rally to a company we are now mustcring or Col. Cheuault's regiment.

Those who still cling to Lincoln's despotic tht with negroes, must leave this county

Rally then, Kentuckians, while you have a chance to form a company of your own, and yo with Morgan. Help us to forever hurl back he ruthless invader from the fur fields and seautiful valleys of Wayne. Many new resembles have already enrolled themselves, but we need more.

Underneath the above printed document was found out, the PENALTY IS DEATH!

This means that liberty, as Ransom interprets it, signifies the full right to proclaim treason all over the Union, to subvert its Constitution and to defy its law, but to resist the accursed government is a capital crime, deserving the loss of life. We cannot believe that such transparent villainy will bring many new voluntary recruits; but the sad evidences are multiplied to us, by every refugee from lower

Kentucky, that the Confederate conscription law is executed there with merciless severity.

that compulsory service is demanded as the bayonet's point, and that the rebels are deceiving their dapes when they offer worthless rage as pay, while "twenty-five dol ars commutation for clothing" is an absurdity in a portion of the State where every necessr ry of life is exhausted in the hands of the peo ple, having been ruthlessly seized for the uses of the future nobles of the Southern mon archy, and to keen them in food and raimen until their accursed schemes of despotic dom ination are achieved. This is the entertain ment to which "the brave men, fair women

So, if the publication of the notice constitutes falling into line after the abolitionists, the Editor of the Democrat fell into line a day ahead of us! We advise our desperate neighbor to stir up his caution until it bears some sort of proportion to his malice.

We wish to put our staid citizens, and especially our legislators, on their guard. We have heard that another "French lady" is about to commit depredations in the valley of "la belle riviere;" she is variously called "the beauteous Isabella Cuhas" or the "charming Cuhas." She sometimes appears "in public on the stago," and when she performed recent ly at the Walnut Street Theatre, Philadelphin, Mrs. Garrettson, the fair manugeress of that temple of Melpomene and Terpsichore, had on to announce her in the fol lowing language:
